UPDATES FOR 2024

From the President: Robert N. Ferrer, Jr., MFH:

We are excited about changes to modernize, simplify, and economize while maintaining standards for our Hound Show. This new website is one of the first initiatives. It will be our primary communication method with hunts and members of the foxhunting community and will replace mailings and printings.

Virginia Foxhound Show Mailings

In years past, we have printed and mailed the prize list to all members of the Virginia Foxhound Club (member hunts and individuals). Beginning in 2024, we will cease that very costly method of communicating that requires drafting, reviewing, printing, and mailing costs. On top of that, we routinely had 20-25 prize lists returned as undeliverable.

The same can be said of our announcement and invitation to the annual meeting and luncheon, so we will utilize our website to communicate information to our members and interested parties. This is designed to save revenue that can be used in the ever-increasing costs of the Hound Show.

Virginia Foxhound Show Sponsors

Last year, we instituted a program that was very successful in requesting ring sponsors, and we will continue to do that again to help offset expenses.

Parking

I have met with the Morven Park staff to try to identify a way to enable people to park closer to the grounds, both for the dinner the night before and the day of the show, but we were unsuccessful in getting any concession in that area. However, they have agreed to our moving the tent for the dinner closer to the parking area, which, in turn, would make the pack and championship classes significantly closer to the kennels.

While we would lose the backdrop of the mansion for the dinner and the pack and championship classes, it would make it significantly more convenient for people parking both in the field and the parking lot.

We would continue the bus shuttle in the morning but eliminate it for the later afternoon since people would be within walking distance to their cars – again, a cost-saving measure.

Admin & Costs

The cost of putting on this show has almost tripled over the past couple of years, and we are reluctant to increase costs on exhibitors who already spend a great deal of money coming to the show. So, we must find ways to make the show successful and pleasant for attendees but also economize.

In the past few years, we have not provided sufficient instructions to our stewards and clerks to help make the show run smoothly, so we are renewing the former practice of having a chief steward who will oversee the five rings to make them operate efficiently.

We are fortunate to have a solid Show Secretary who will continue the initiatives we have instituted over the last couple of years to make registering and making changes as easy as possible for attendees. We are also looking at improvements in other areas, which we will announce on the website.

Volunteers

We are faced, like many organizations, with an aging group of volunteers, and I am asking everyone to identify younger volunteers who can help put on the show and take it to the next level to ensure the show's continuation for generations to come.

I am charging everyone to step up and make the Virginia Hound Show, the largest foxhound show in the world, the best possible event to bring together a large section of the North American foxhunting community.

Clearly, the advantage of the show is to see the top breeding in North America each year, but it also serves as a unique forum to exchange ideas and share camaraderie between foxhunters, Huntsmen, and Staff, and Masters.

Thank you for supporting the Virginia Foxhound Club and enabling it to serve the foxhunting community. We welcome everyone to participate and join us Memorial Day weekend.
